Lovers of Rock, Start Your Engines

If you're seeking a good rock show for an affordable price, here's one to check out. On Friday, May 27, rock stalwarts Staind and Papa Roach will perform the Miller Lite Carb Day Concert held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. The two acts have combined for more than 23 million albums sold and will be sure to pump up the crowd that day with their array of hits. Carb Day is the last day of practice for the drivers before the big Indy 500 race the following Sunday.

Practice will begin that day at 11 a.m., followed by the Firestone Freedom 100 Indy Lights Race (40 laps), the IZOD Pit Stop Challenge and finally the big concert on the Miller Lite Stage at 3:30 p.m. The price for this eventful day is only $20, not bad at all even if you're not interested in the racing and just want to go check out the music.

What's even better is that you can take your own cooler of beer, pop or whatever your drink of choice may be onto the grounds. When you see this caliber of bands, you're usually forking over a heaping $7 or more for a beer, but not this time! I went to Carb Day a few years back to see Stone Temple Pilots perform, and it was a blast! Beer, racing and loud, live rock go pretty darn well together. Art lovers, start your engines. Local painter and 10-time Whammy award-winner Terry Ratliff will be displaying his Rat Art work from 4:30-9 p.m. Friday, April 29 at Hoosier Sports & Chiropractic (122 W. Wayne St., Fort Wayne). There will be catering and a cash bar courtesy of J.K. O'Donnell's and live acoustic music performed by Mark P. Schimmoller. More importantly, you can feast your eyes on Ratliff's breathtaking work and see for yourself why he's taken home so many well-deserved awards over the years.

Mark your calendars for Sunday, May 15 when an important fundraiser will be taking place at Piere's. The event will benefit David McCoy, injured in an automobile accident this winter. Proceeds will help McCoy and his family begin to pay off the medical expenses that have been piling up ever since.

The special evening will feature a silent auction, 50/50 drawing and live entertainment from Dash Rip Rock, Rosemary Gates, Kenny Taylor All Star Band, Kill Nancy, Good Night Gracie, Mind's Eye and Pink Droyd. You definitely can't go wrong with that stellar lineup. Things will get going at 4 p.m. that day and will only cost you $7.
